Introduction

The Profile of Graduate Management Admission Test® (GMAT®) Candidates, 2001-02 to 2005-06, is a summary of GMAT® data over a five-year period from testing year 2001-02 through testing year 2005-06. “Testing years” run from July 1 to June 30. The Profile is prepared annually and is designed as an aid to graduate management admissions officers in preparing reports and planning recruitment and admission activities.

The GMAT® Program

The Graduate Management Admission Test® (GMAT®) is a test of developed abilities intended to provide counselors and admissions officers with one predictor of academic performance in graduate management school. The GMAT® exam is an important part of the admissions process for approximately 4,000 graduate management programs at 1,700 business schools worldwide.

The GMAT® exam has three sections that are scored for all examinees: Verbal, Quantitative, and Analytic Writing. The Quantitative and Verbal scores contribute to the Total score reported in this Profile. The GMAT® Total scores are reported on a scale ranging from 200 to 800, rounded to the nearest ten.

Data Interpretation

The information included in this Profile is for examinees with reportable scores who tested during the five-year period reported. Examinees who took the test more than once in this five-year period are represented in the data the number of times they took the test. In any given testing period, approximately 15-22% of the test takers are repeaters.

During the test session, GMAT® examinees are asked to provide biographical and demographic information that is used in this Profile and for the Graduate Management Admission Search Service® (GMASS®). However, examinees are not required to provide this information and some choose not to do so. In Table 1, where “no response” data are provided, a small number of examinees did not respond to the question about gender. The caveat for each table except Table 1, therefore, is that the total numbers will not necessarily equal the total in Table 1. “No response” data are not specified in the other tables.

A note on standard deviations: The only statistics reported in this summary are group sizes and mean Total scores. Another statistic commonly reported for data of this kind is the standard deviation, a measure of the spread of score distribution. For the data reported in the Profile, however, nearly all of the standard deviations for GMAT® Total scores are in the 90 to 110 range. Because these standard deviations are so redundant across the subgroups tabulated in this summary and across the testing years included, they are not reported here.

Graduate Management Admission Council®

The Profile of Graduate Management Admission Test® Candidates is a product of the Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®), a global not-for-profit education organization of leading graduate business schools and the owner of the GMAT® exam. GMAC® is dedicated to creating access to and disseminating information about graduate management education; these schools and others rely on the Council as the premier provider of reliable data about the graduate management education industry.

GMAT® Total Score Means by Gender and Testing Year

Table 1 presents the number and mean Total scores for men and women by testing year. The total number in each column represents the total from the Graduate Management Admission Council® database used for this profile and should be used as a reference for subsequent tables. Due to a data collection problem, certain data in this table (marked with an asterisk*) have been estimated.

Table 2 presents the number and mean Total scores for men and women by testing year and by examinee state of residence, as indicated in their mailing address at the time of registration for the GMAT® exam. This table includes all examinees of U.S. and non-U.S. citizenship who were residing in the United States at the time of the test. Due to a data collection problem, certain data in this table (marked with an asterisk*) have been estimated.

Table 3 presents the number and mean Total scores for men and women by testing year and country of citizenship. The first two groups labeled “USA” and “Non-USA” represent the total group of examinees who were U.S. citizens and the total group of examinees who were not U.S. citizens at the time they tested.

Please note that beginning with the 2003-04 testing year, examinees who selected Hong Kong as their country of citizenship were included in the sample for China. Due to a data collection problem, certain data in this table (marked with an asterisk*) have been estimated.

GMAT® Total Score Means by Age Group, Gender, and Testing Year

Table 5 (next page) presents the number and mean Total scores for men and women by testing year and by age. All U.S. and non-U.S. examinees are included in this table. Examinees are not asked to give their age, but are asked for their birth dates. Ages have been calculated, therefore, from birth dates and dates of the test administrations. The categories for age are:

Younger than 20 years	26–27 years	40–49 years
20–21 years	28–30 years	50+ years
22–23 years	31–34 years
24–25 years	35–39 years

Data for the 50+ age group for 2001–02 have been revised from earlier editions of the Profile to exclude some examinees who did not provide date of birth and were included in this age group by default. Examinee age was calculated using full examinee birth dates starting in 2005-06. (Previous calculations relied solely on the year of birth.)

GMAT® Examinees by Attending Institution, Gender, and Testing Year

Table 8 presents the number of men and women who provided the name of their undergraduate institution. A complete list of undergraduate institutions may be found in the GMAT® Information Bulletin, available online at www.mba.com/2006bulletin. Abbreviations of institution names are used in the table due to spacing issues (e.g., “C of William & Mary” for College of William and Mary, and “U Rochester” for University of Rochester). Please note that some undergraduate institutions from countries outside the United States are included in the table.
